Workforce Excellence: Corporate Initiatives that Include Employees with Disablities

Abstract

[Excerpt] All businesses and organizations are engaged in a "war for talent". The workforce as a whole will age as employees stay on the job well past today's standard retirement age. One of the residual effects will be an increase in the numbers of workers with disabilities.

WORKFORCE EXCELLENCE

Corporate Initiatives that Include Employees with Disabilities

Implementing a vigorous, expansive recruiting strategy provides companies with a wide-range of talent, critical to the success of any enterprise

It's time your organization took a Closer look at workers with disabilities

18.6 million workers with disabilities contribute their talents to companies and organizations large and small*

They are attorneys, warehouse managers, retail service personnel and local, state and federal employees

Students with disabilities are graduating with IT, engineering, accounting, law and science degrees

*Reference: Census 2000 Summary File #3 (March 2003, U.S. Census Bureau).

What do NFI Award winners IBM®, Cingular Wireless® and SunTrust Banks, Inc.® have in common? They actively recruit, hire and promote candidates with disabilities

Why? Performance – Retention – Attendance

The typical cost of a job accommodation is $600 or less, some don't cost anything

The Office of Disability Employment Policy's Job Accommodation Network (JAN) conducted a customer satisfaction survey on uses of JAN's services. The most frequently mentioned direct benefits of working with JAN were:

- (1) Retaining qualified employees
- (2) Increasing worker productivity
- (3) Eliminating costs of training
