Freedom of Association: Right to Freely Associate

FOA.2 Workers, without distinction whatsoever, shall have the right to establish and, subject only to the rules of the organization concerned, to join organizations of their own choosing without previous authorization. The right to freedom of association begins at the time that a worker seeks employment, and continues through the course of employment, including eventual termination of employment, and is applicable as well to unemployed and retired workers. (S)

Noncompliance

Explanation: Monitor’s Note: Currently, 3 out of 175 workers are members of trade union. 1 out of total 3 trade union members is the warehouse keeper; the other 2 are office clerks.

FLA Comment: The Chinese constitution guarantees Freedom of Association (FOA); however, the Trade Union Act prevents the establishment of trade unions independent of the sole official trade union - the All China Federation of Trade Unions (ACFTU). According to the ILO, many provisions of the Trade Union Act are contrary to the fundamental principles of FOA, including the non-recognition of the right to strike. As a consequence, all factories in China fall short of the ILO standards on the right to organize and bargain collectively. However, the government has introduced new regulations that could improve the functioning of the labor relations mechanisms. The Amended Trade Union Act of Oct. 2001 stipulates that union committees have to be democratically elected at members’ assemblies and trade unions must be accountable to their members. The trade union has the responsibility to consult with management on key issues of importance to their members and to sign collective agreements. Trade unions also have an enhanced role in dispute resolution. In Dec. 2003, the Collective Contracts Decree introduced the obligation for representative trade unions and employers to negotiate collective agreements, in contrast to the previous system of non-negotiated administrative agreements.

Noncompliance

Explanation: Visual inspection found that:

1. There were no fire extinguishers in the finished products or stuffing material warehouses.

2. Most fire extinguishers in the factory were BC type, which are not suitable for a potential solid material fire in the factory. It was observed during the factory tour that only 2 pieces in the packing workshop were suitable for ABC-type fire extinguishers.

Time records maintained shall be authentic and accurate. (P)

Noncompliance

Explanation: Provided time records were inaccurate or incomplete based on the below findings:

1. Daily output records found in sewing department showed that workers worked 3 Saturdays (July 3, July 31, September 18) and 1 Sunday (September 26) in 2010. However, time records provided by management reflected that no worker worked on those days.

2. All interviewed workers reported that they could only have 2 days off per month during peak season, including the previous 3 months. But, time records provided by management indicated that no workers worked on any Sundays from September 2009 to September 2010.

Hours of Work: Annual Leave

HOW.14 Employers shall provide workers with paid annual leave as required under local laws, regulations and procedures. (S)

Noncompliance

Explanation: Based on management and worker interviews, along with review of leave records, it was identified that factory only provided 5 days of paid annual leave for workers who had served the factory for more than 10 years, or even 20 years. This violates the local law which requires that 10 days of annual paid leave should be provided to workers if they have served the factory for 10 - 20 years; 15 days of annual paid leave should be given if they have worked at the factory for more than 20 years.
