3. Freedom of Association and Collective Bargaining
Employers will recognize and respect the right of employees to freedom of association and collective bargaining
Freedom of Association: FLA Comment		FLA Comment: The Chinese constitution guarantees freedom of Association; however, the Trade Union Act prevents the establishment of trade unions independent of the sole official trade union – the All China Federation of Trade Unions (AFCFTU). According to the ILO, many provisions of the Trade Union Act are contrary to the fundamental principles of freedom of association, including the non-recognition of the right to strike. As a consequence, all factories in China fall short of the ILO standards on the right to organize and bargain collectively. Recently, however, the government has introduced new regulations that could improve the functioning of the labor relations mechanisms. The Amended Trade Union Act of October 2001 does stipulate that union committees have to be democratically elected at members' assemblies and trade unions must be accountable to their members. The trade union has the responsibility to consult with management on key issues of importance to their members and to sign collective agreements. It also grants the trade union an enhanced role in dispute resolution. In December 2003, the Collective Contracts Decree introduced the obligation for representative trade unions and employers to negotiate collective agreements, in contrast to the previous system of non-
4. Wages and Benefits
Employers recognize that wages are essential to meeting employees' basic needs. Employers will pay employees, as a base, at least the minimum wage required by local law or the prevailing industry wage, whichever is higher, and will provide legally mandated benefits
Wage Benefits Awareness		Employers will communicate orally and in writing to all employees in the language of the worker the wages, incentive systems, benefits and bonuses to which all workers are entitled in that company and under the applicable law.			1/2 piece rate workers interviewed do not know how to calculate their wages. Legal benefits	Article 72, PRC Labor Code, the sources of social insurance funds shall be determined according to the branches of insurance, and an overall raising of social insurance funds shall be practised step by step. The employing unit and labourers must participate in social insurance and pay social insurance premiums in accordance with the law.	Employers will provide all legally mandated benefits to all eligible workers.	The factory only buys social insurance for 1300 out of 4000 employees. The management interviewed explained that the government adopted new policies that insurance fee cannot be transferred to other cities, and workers can only withdraw their own part of the fee. So, many workers do not want to buy social insurance.				Records review, management interview, workers interview	Ensure that all employees have legally required insurance coverage. All local and county laws needs to be followed as they apply to insurance requirements.	6/15/2007							Ongoing: Through review of the payment receipt made on July 15th, 2010, it was noted that only 2300 out of 2932 workers had participated in retirement insurance, illness insurance, unemployment insurance, work-related injury or occupational disease insurance and child-bearing insurance. The factory also bought a group commercial accident insurance for 2000 factory workers.	Records review	Company Follow-up: After much communication with factory, they have agreed to boost their workers insurance for retirement, illness, unemployment, work related injury, and child bearing. This will be reflected beginning January 2011. They are going to begin a training class for all employees to help them better understand their benefits and their rights. Update (12/2011): Factory to report list of steps taken to boost workers' insurance effective January 2011 along with plans to achieve full compliance with legal requirements over time (if a gap between current practice and legal requirement remains). In accordance with FLA guidance, local waivers to these obligations are not recognized. Factory to report on each required type of social insurance; commercial injury/accident insurance is not a substitute for industrial insurance required by law. Factory Response: Kindly note we are making progress on the social insurance and have established a three-year program to complete the full coverage of social insurance by July 1st, 2014.
Payment of wages	Temporary regulation for wage payment Article 9 Laborers and labor contracts with working units as per law, working units should pay all wages to laborers for one time at the time contracts end. Shenzhen wage payment regulation Article 13	Legally mandated bonuses (e.g. 13th month payments and severance payments will be paid in full and in a timely manner	Even workers who apply for resignation one month in advance, as required by the contracts, will not receive their last pay until the fixed pay day.
