Wages, Benefits and Overtime Compensation: Deposit of Legally Mandated Deductions

WBOT.13 All legally mandated deductions for taxes, social insurance, or other purposes shall be deposited each pay period in the legally defined account or transmitted to the legally defined agency. This includes any lawful garnishments for back taxes, etc. The employer shall not hold over any of these funds from one pay period to the other unless the law specifies that deposits are to be made less frequently than pay periods (e.g., monthly deposits, weekly pay). If the law does not specify, then deposits shall be made before the next pay period in all cases. (S)

Explanation: There were 2 types of employment at the factory: 1) full-time employees and 2) apprentices. Full-time employee hiring process: These workers are generally insured when they start work, as they have experience in textile factories before. This factory is located in a small town and there aren’t many experienced employees, hence this process applies rarely on the hiring process at the factory.

Apprentices hiring process: The factory generally hires their employees by this method. The factory and local education service conduct training for 3 months. After this training, workers are socially insured by local education service; social insurance is a legal requirement. However, the factory also continues to hire employees within this 3 month period. Thus the workers who start work at the factory during this 3 month period are waiting between 1 week and 2.5 months to join the apprentice program in which they will be insured by the local education service.

Consequently, these workers have worked uninsured during the 1 week to 2.5 months before starting apprentice program.

Wages, Benefits and Overtime Compensation: General Compliance Wages, Benefits and Overtime Compensation

WBOT.1 Employers shall comply with all local laws, regulations and procedures concerning the payment of wages and benefits, including overtime compensation. In any case where laws and the FLA Code are contradictory, the standard that provides the greatest protection for workers shall apply. Where provisions are lacking, employers shall take measures to reasonably accommodate matters concerning the payments of wages and benefits, including overtime compensation. (S)

Noncompliance

Explanation: 1. As per Turkish Labor Law Article 63, the working period is a maximum of 45 hours a week. According to Turkish Labor Law Article 41, overtime is the work exceeding 45 hours a week within the framework of the conditions set forth in the Law. It was noted in the factory that the absence days of workers were calculated on monthly basis. These days/hours were deducted directly from monthly overtime hours.

2. Factory keeps double books on the payrolls.

Hours of Work: Time Recording System
HOW.6 Time worked by all workers, regardless of compensation system, shall be fully documented by time cards or other accurate and reliable recording systems such as electronic swipe cards. Employers are prohibited from maintaining multiple time-keeping systems and/or false records for any fraudulent reason, such as to falsely demonstrate working hours. Time records maintained shall be authentic and accurate. (P)

Noncompliance

Explanation:  The workers did not record their working hours when they worked on Sundays.

Hours of Work: Overtime/Calculation Over Period Longer Than One Week

HOW.10. Employers are allowed to calculate normal hours of work as an average over a period of longer than one week where local laws, regulations and procedures provide for such a possibility but only when all formal and procedural requirements attached to such calculation (for instance, obtaining official permission from the relevant authorities or limits to the period during which such calculations can be made) are met. The basis for such calculation shall, however, remain at all times the lesser of 48 hours per week or legal limits on hours of work in the country of manufacture or, where such legal limits do not exist, the regular work week in such country. (S)

Noncompliance

Explanation: 1. It was noted that weekly combined working hours (regular + overtime) were exceeding 60 hours in some employee time records.

2. As per Turkish Labor Law Article 63, the working period is a maximum 45 hours a week. Unless otherwise agreed, such period is applied by equally assigning it to working days of the week. The normal weekly working period may be differently assigned to working days of the week without exceeding 11 hours a day, upon agreement of the parties. It was noted that daily combined working hours (regular + overtime) were exceeding 11 hours in some employee time records.
